Christmas Cotillion

December 18, 1981 At Ipswich High School

Neither Sleet, Nor Snow, Nor Bloodmobile,

Could Keep Us Away . . .

But Thanks For The Brownies, Lisa.

On April 10, we, the soon-to-be seniors of Ipswich High School, set out to do something that would prove to be a definite change in tradition. We held our Junior Prom at the Radisson Ferncroft in Danvers. To most of us, this was the night that we became seniors! Remember how nervous we were, and the thoughts that were running through our minds? "Do I look all right?" . . . Is my hair all right? . . . "Are we going to be late?"

To some of us it was a nervewracking experience, but it was worth it!

Opportunities for Personalizing Educational Needs

IV.C

CIES AND PROCEDUR

The Ipswich Alternative School addresses itself to the provision of personalized alternatives to the traditional high school program and to the awarding of high school credit. Through the use of group process techniques, career and consumer-oriented activities and a creative approach to the basic skill development in a non-traditional environment, students in the project will be guided toward goal-centered decision-making appropriate to their individual needs and geared to raising their future career aspirations. The Alternative School also provides a forum of creative curriculum development and encourages research the kind of courses and activities that appear to meet the less-motivated students' needs.

UNDERCLASSEN

But Mrs. King, I told you I already cleaned this brush!

Do you think
we'll make it.

I knew I should have brought in my own tape.

It's not that bad is it?

I knew I shouldn't have waited till Friday
at 2:00, to do my lab.

Freshmen are the ones who go racing down the halls, not knowing where they are going, but knowing they have to get somewhere.

Freshmen are the ones who venture into Senior territory, only to crash into some overgrown senior, and drop all their books. Of course, the seniors do not appreciate this.

Freshmen are the ones who have been introduced to the first wing bathroom.

Freshmen are the ones who tend to get lost in crowds and can never seem to find their way out.

Freshmen girls are the ones who usually are terrified of walking by all those senior guys in the foyer and by the third wing bathroom.

Freshmen are the ones who take forever to get their lunch because they always get cut by everyone.

Freshmen are the ones who get stuck with bringing up all the senior's lunch trays.

Freshmen are the ones who carry all their books so that they can get to class early and not have to visit their locker.

There has to be an easier way to do this.

Project Suicide here I come!

Maybe I took a wrong turn somewhere 0000

Not this exercise again!

Well-looks like were going to be late again!

There is never enough
room in these stupid
lockers!

There must be some trick to this.

Sophomores are the ones who sell all sorts of candy so that they can help earn money for senior year.

Sophomores are the ones who still do not understand the idea of hall decoration.

Sophomores are the ones who have the problem of figuring out which class ring to get and what color.

Sophomores are the ones who have to suffer through Project Suicide.

Sophomores are the ones who finally feel like they are part of the High School. But are they?

Sophomores are the ones who finally are not on the bottom rung of the ladder.

Is this really worth it?

Maybe if I act like I am listening they won't know I'm asleep.

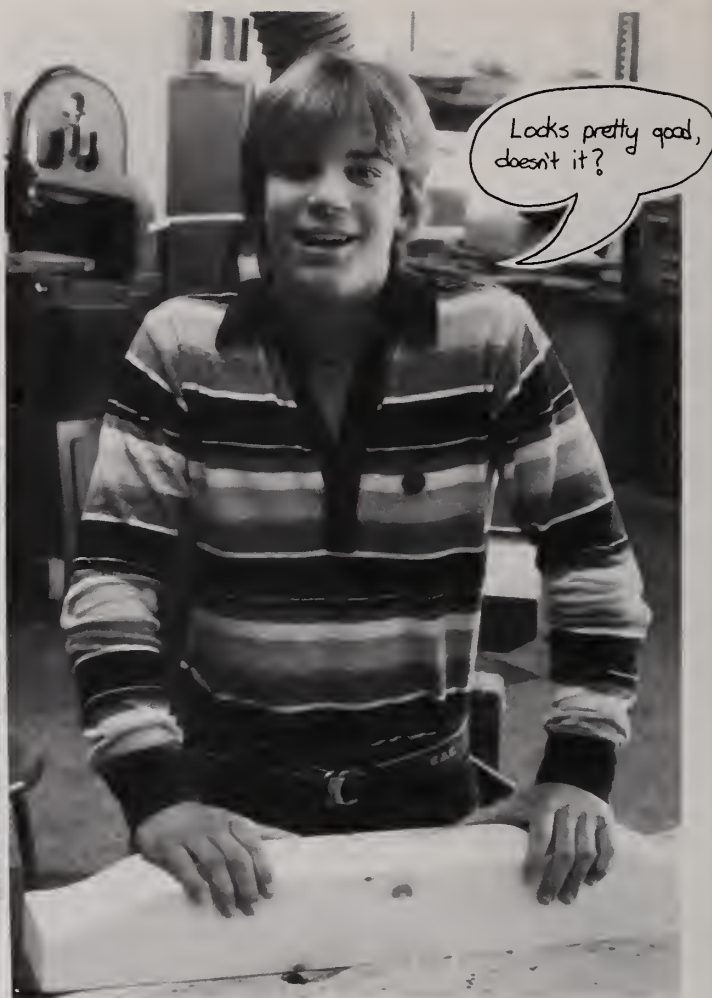

Someday I'll have patience for this.

I wish it was Friday.

Juniors are the ones who flunk the basic thrills test and look forward to Doris next year.

Juniors are the ones who finally understand how to make up their schedules for next year, but still can't do it.

Juniors are the ones who finally start to worry about raising enough money for next year.

Juniors are the ones who have to find a date for their prom, but can't until the last minute.

Juniors are the ones who have to start worrying about grades in order to get into a college.

Juniors are the ones who have to take the PSAT's only to find out that they are able to flunk any thing

I knew I should have studied for this test.

Which one should I choose

ooo

The.... quick.... brown.... fox.... jumped.....o....

ooo

I'll never finish five more pages in ten minutes!

Mickey, I really don't think I can do this.

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS

Seniors are the ones who have to fill out all those college applications and wait months, only to find out that they left them in their desk drawer.

Seniors are the ones who have to take the SAT's because they do not make sense, and that is what college's like.

Seniors are the ones who pay out all their high school earnings so that they can go to the Castle for their prom.

Seniors are the ones who get out of school a month early so that they can get an early start on their tans at the beach.

Seniors are the only ones who understand what Class Day is about.

A black and white photograph of a rocky coastline. The foreground is filled with the textured, churning water of waves. In the middle ground, numerous dark, jagged rocks protrude from the sea, with white foam from the waves crashing against them. The background shows a hazy horizon where the sea meets the sky.

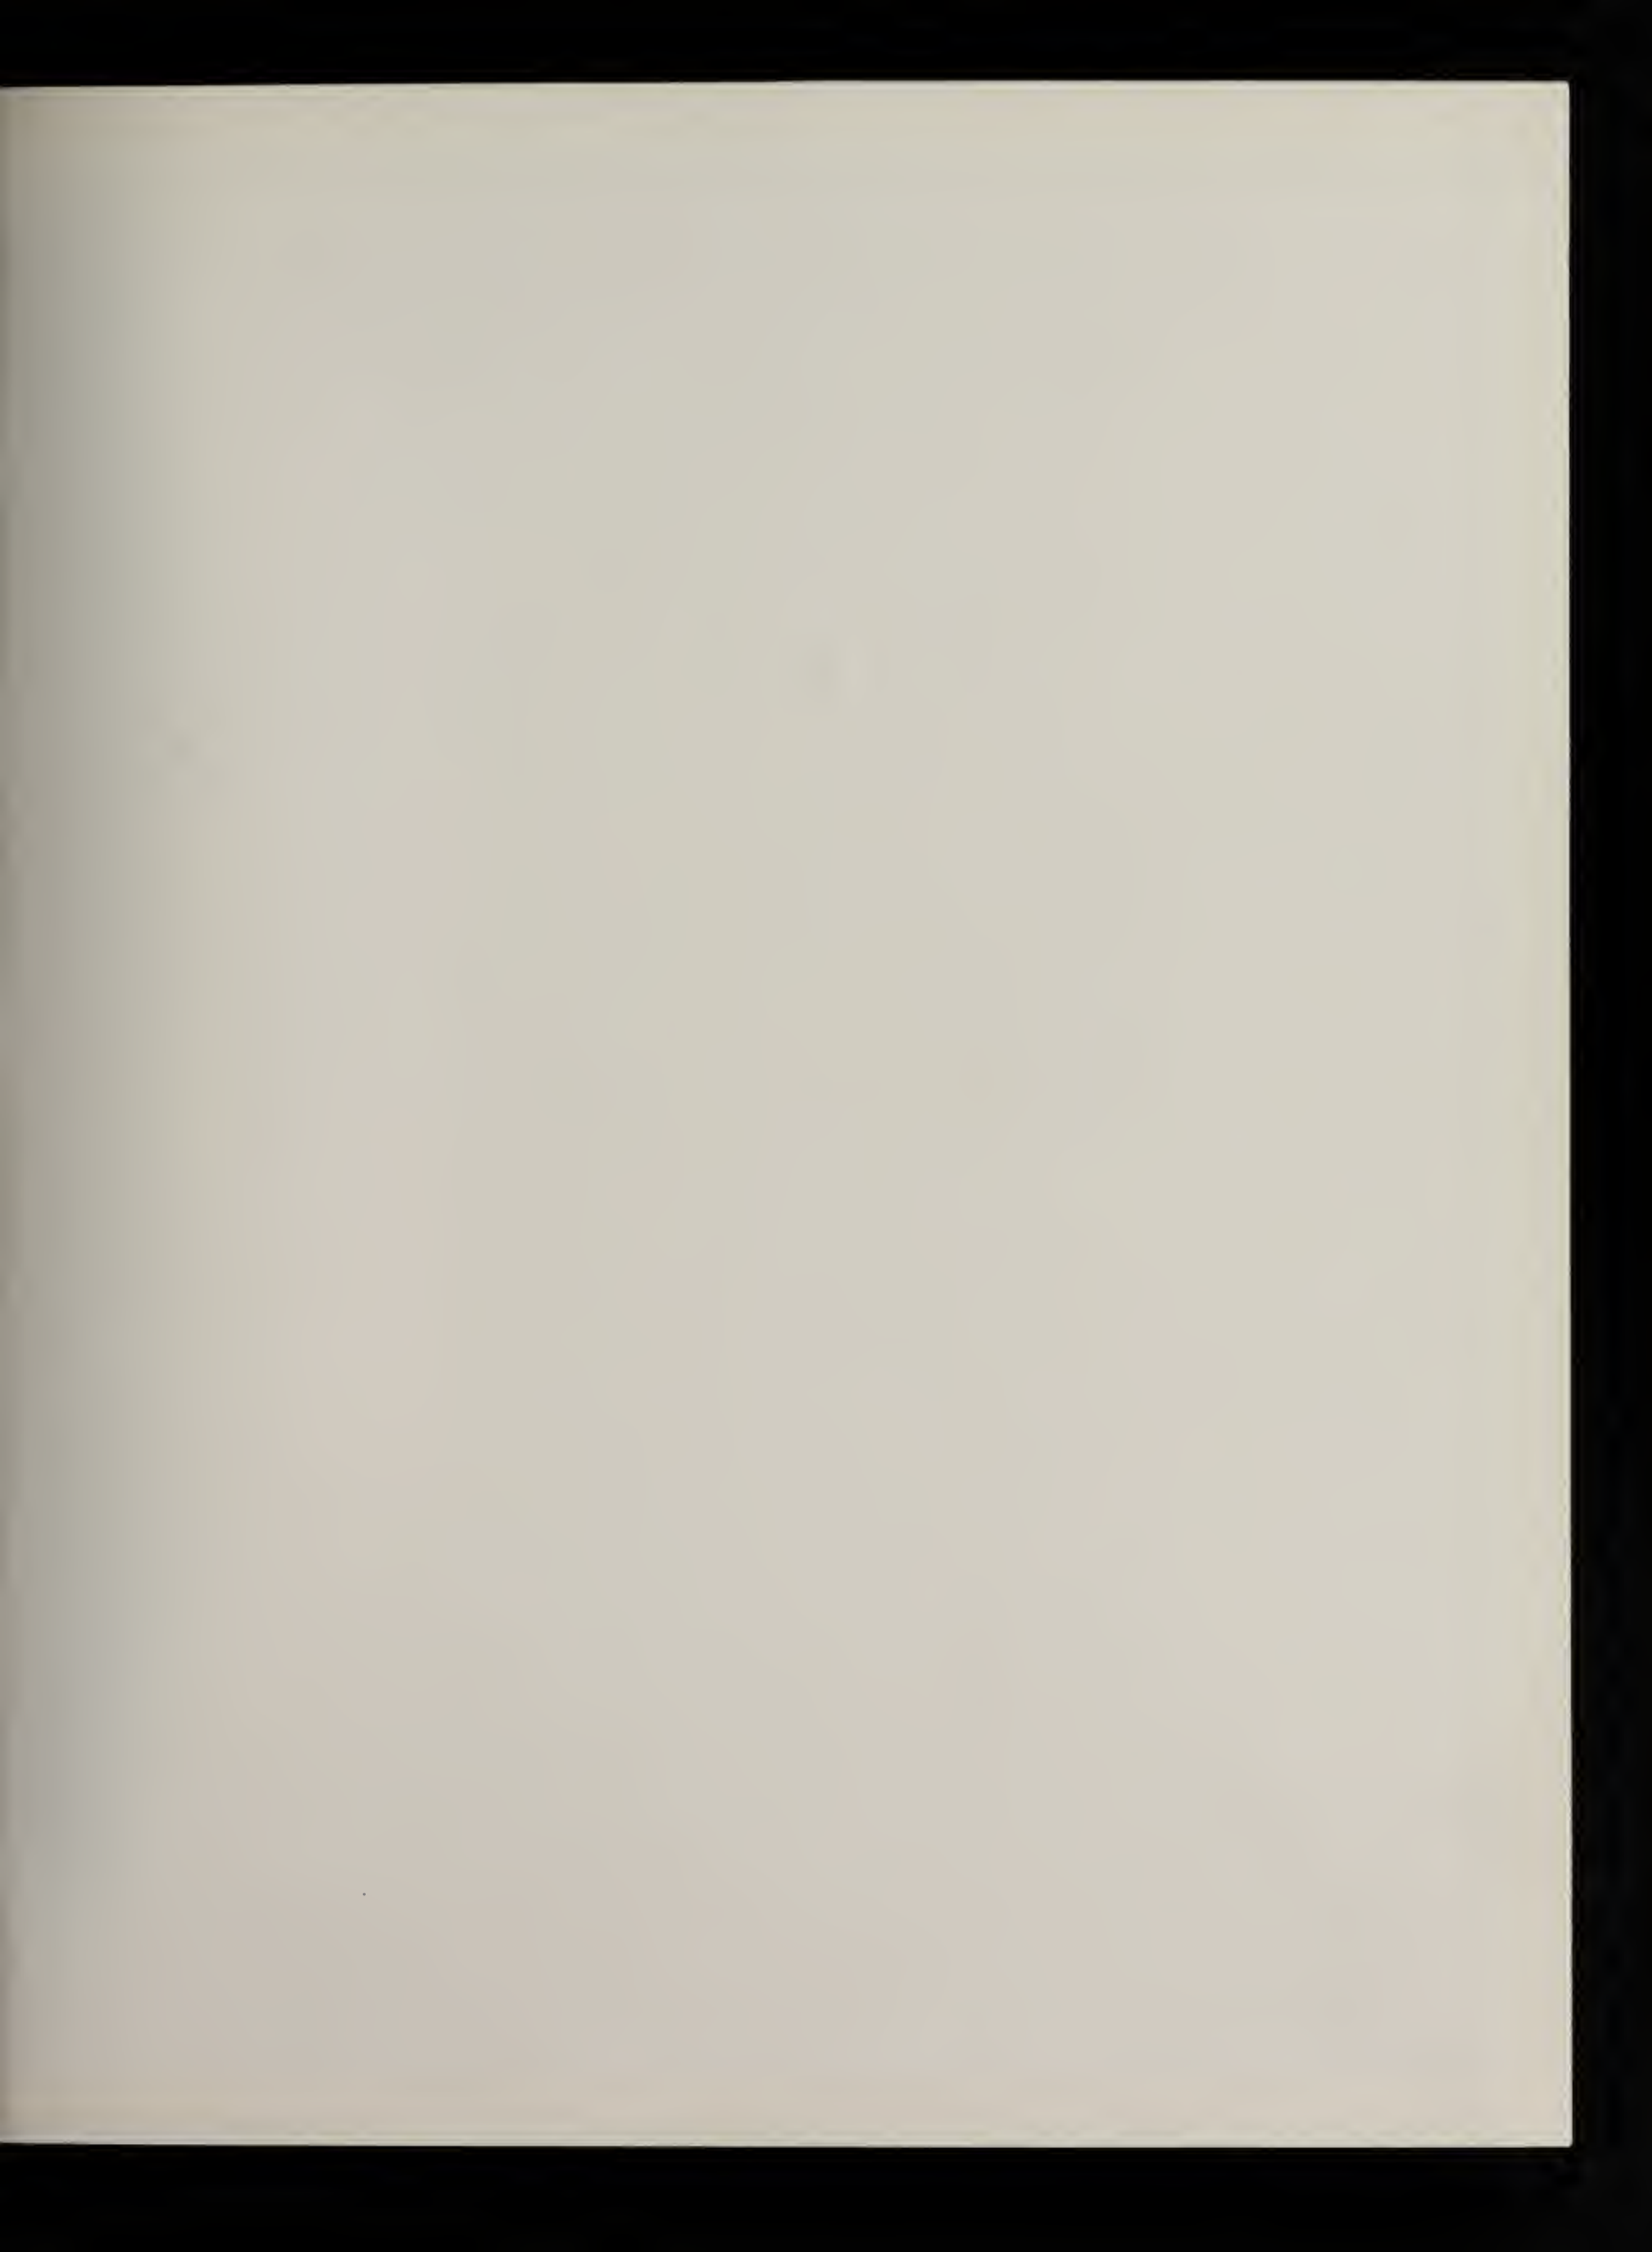

We the class of 1982, would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you, who have helped to make this yearbook a success. Without your contributions of time, energy, and financial support, this book would not be possible.
